NORTH HIGH SCHOOL IS more than just a mere building, a nine hour day, heavy books, ringing bells, and crowded halls. It is built with PEOPLE—teachers and students who work together toward the common goal of learning—"PEOPLE who need PEOPLE, the luckiest PEOPLE in the world."

SCHOOL IS PEOPLE gathered together from different areas with different goals in mind—individual personalities searching for new experiences. School can be a place to satisfy that "hunger and thirst" for knowledge and for friendship with PEOPLE who care.

YOU ARE A "SPECIAL PERSON" at North, not just a number. You are one of a group of PEOPLE possessing your own interests and abilities, searching into the future for new horizons in life. Here you make your decision as to what you will be in the future. You have a choice. You can close your mind to what's around you and be a failure. You can use your talents and work toward your dream. JOIN THE WONDERFUL WORLD OF SUCCESSFUL PEOPLE! NEED PEOPLE! BE LUCKY!

Noel Cruz Enjoys Year in American High School

Noel browses through books in the library to learn a little more on American homelife.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Heider enjoyed being a part of the American Field Service program which gave Noel the chance to see the United States.

Noel Cruz stepped off the plane at Eppley airport on August 7, 1968 anxious to begin an unforgettable year as the American Field Service student at North High. He was greeted by his new American family, the Louis Heiders.

Noel's home is in the Philippines. He traveled to the United States with fifty-three other students participating in the exchange program. Before he reached Omaha, Noel visited the western part of the United States. "I've seen enough snow!" was Noel's comment about an Omaha winter. Before he returns home he will tour the east coast.

He likes all the activities of an American high school, especially the Pep Rallies. Noel took part in many school activities. He participated in intramural basketball and AFS. He served on Student Council and also performed as a juggler in the musical, "Carnival." In reality he has graduated twice. He had already completed high school in the Philippines before he came to America.

Noel has summed up his year as an "experience." He says, "It is important to go to another country to compare its way of living to yours." He feels he is now better prepared for college. Next year Noel will attend the University of the Philippines. He will either pursue a career in medicine or law.

The boys may have outnumbered the girls in the Heider family, but Noel was still a welcomed addition.

Noel learns from Rodger that playing the piano isn't as easy as it looks.

Noel pauses outside the school before beginning another day.

Dale, Noel, Rodger and Arlan discuss the favorite American sport of football.

Homecoming was a big event of the '68-'69 school year. The theme was "Up, Up and Away". The festivities began on the morning of October 11 with the sale of mums by JCL. The Viking spirit continued throughout the day and was topped by an outdoor pep rally. A car smash, sponsored by DECA, was another pre-game activity.

The king and queen candidates were introtroduced during the half-time ceremonies of the North-Thomas Jefferson game at Burke stadium. Since most of the king candidates were on the football team, the girls were escorted on the field by members of the Boys "N" Club. The band played, "Sweetheart of Sigma Chi." As the candidates left the heart, which was formed by the band member's hats, there was a display of fireworks.

The dance and coronation were held directly after the game at the Livestock Exchange Building. Music was provided by The Seven Fabulous Fortunes. The announcement of the Homecoming king and queen was made by Daniel Jones, assistant principal. Terri Moore was crowned as the new reigning queen by Marsha Engen, '68 princess. Charlie McWhorter took the throne as king. Terri was presented with a bouquet of red roses by Principal Harold Reeves.

Aurora Spotlights Talents of Students

North presented its forty-fourth Aurora December 6, 7 and 8. This year's student talent show imitated the Johnny Carson "Tonight" Show, with John Adams acting as master of ceremonies. There was a variety of acts ranging from dance interpretations by Debbie Sullivan to a harp solo by Anita Clark. The Senior Choir brought the show to a close singing selections from "Kismet."

The audience was attentive to the skills of the ROTC "Crusaders," after which one could hear them chuckling to the sounds of the "German Band." Chris Gavitt sang "Turn Around," with Julie Sandene accompanying her on the guitar.

The Vikettes danced to the "Blizzard Song," while the Madrigals sang melodies from "Fiddler on the Roof." The North High orchestra opened the show with the overture, "On a Wonderful Day Like Today," directed by Loyson Mahoney.

Mr. Mahoney was chairman of the Aurora executive committee and director of the show. Mrs. Louise Sutton was in charge of ticket sales. Other members of the committee were Sidney Case, Dwayne Ibsen and Larry Rankin.

Cheryl Smith, Emma Jones, and Connie White got an overwhelming applause with their medley of "Can't Take My Eyes Off Of You" and "Promises, Promises".

Count Dracula, played by John Soulliere, bares his fangs in the spine tingling drama, "Dracula", while Betty Brandes, his bride-to-be, sits trembling.

Faculty Gives Chilling Drama of Vampires

The second annual faculty play was full of thrills and chills from the time the curtain went up at 8:00 p.m. on March 27. The student audience witnessed flying bats, strange disappearances and neck biting throughout the performance. The spine tingling drama, "Dracula", was repeated on the night of March 28.

"Dracula", directed by Dwayne Ibsen, speech and drama instructor, was written by Hamilton Deane and John L. Balderson. It was an original story of a famous vampire who searched for the blood of living persons to prolong his life. John Soulliere, art teacher, played Count Dracula. Betty Brandes, history teacher, played Lucy Seward, Dracula's bride. The lunatic was played by Judy Marsh, gym teacher. James Coulter, English instructor, Cheryl Witham, French teacher and David Lallman, D.E. teacher played a doctor, mother and young lover, respectively.

The faculty play was presented to raise money for the Faculty Scholarship Fund which gives scholarships to two deserving North High students. A portion of the proceeds remained in the Fund as a growing endowment.

Love and Witches Dominate Stage in Unusual Play

The "happening" at North High on Oct. 17 and 19 was an unusual modern dramatic production which combined a love story with witches and strange phenomena. "Dinny and the Witches" was a "frolic in grave matters," according to its author, William Gibson who also wrote the stage and screen success, "The Miracle Worker."

Drama instructor Dwayne Ibsen directed the production with assistance from faculty members Larry Rankin and Loyson Mahoney and senior students Bonnie Thom, Carl Blake and Debby Sullivan. Dinny, played by Tom Mitchell, was a saxophone player seeking perfection in the world. Throughout his search he was thwarted by three witches who "ran the world." By finding love, Dinny discovered the perfection for which he was looking. Amy, the object of his affection, was played by Chris Gavitt.

"Perfect Coffee!" was the exclamation of the whole cast as Dinny told them he had finally found something perfect enough to take a chance on. The cast included (left to right) Jan Meers, Curt Andrews, Kirk Kuppig, Tom Mitchell, Chris Gavitt, Carl Blake, Debby Hill, Danny Anderson, Debby Kaplan, Bill Bohannon, Bonnie Thom, Dawn Sauer, Shelley Westfall, Elizabeth Merrill, Sally Heggerness.

"Carnival" came to North High on March 20 and played through the 22.

The musical was about life in a traveling French Circus, dealing with the problems of a young girl, Lili, played by Chris Gavitt, who was left an orphan at the hardest age in a girl's life. Her naivete caused trouble between Marco the Magnificient played by Carl Blake and his partner Rosalie, played by Dawn Sauer. It almost destroyed a long standing friendship between Jacquot played by Kirk Kuppig and the bitter puppeteer, Paul Berthatet played by Tom Mitchell.

The puppets used throughout the performance were the original ones used in the Broadway production of the musical. Marguerite, Carrot Top, Horrible Henry, and Renardo the Fox were obtained through contact from a friend of the designer. They were valued at one thousand dollars.

The Viking Choir composed of 110 voices was the largest of the vocal music groups under the direction of Sidney Case. The group practiced daily to perfect choral arrangements which were presented at a variety of school programs. In the Aurora, the choir concluded the annual student talent show singing selections from "Kismet." The choir was featured in the school's forty-second annual Christmas concert given for the students and the public December 17 and 18. The dramatics and instrumental music departments assisted with the pre-holiday production.

Apart from musical activities in the fall, students assisted in the P.T.A. candy sale held annually to raise funds. Eighty per cent of the profits are used to buy instruments, music and other needed equipment for the vocal and instrumental music departments. First semester activities ended with vocal musicians joining the 600-voice choir in the All-City Music Festival January 18.

Much of second semester was devoted to rehearsals for the spring musical, "Carnival." Composed by Bob Merrill, the musical was a hit presentation of David Merrick in 1961. Chris Gavitt was assigned the leading role in the North High production of this story of a girl who runs away to join a circus. Performances were given March 21, 22 and 23. Spring officially came to a close for the choir with the Spring Concert on April 25. Mrs. Beverly Cox accompanied all the vocal music groups, as well as the choir.

Chorus Names Become Numbers From Computer

The computer went to work among the vocalists, too, this year. Not only were grades filed on an EDP-1 form, but choirs became known by course and section numbers. No longer were choirs known as junior or senior ones, or were freshmen singing in a chorus or glee club. The groups all became "no-names" and were designated by their computer numbers: 800-01, 800-02, 800-03 and 800-04.

However, the voices in the groups were unaffected by numbers and choral music was a part of their work in the Christmas and Spring concerts. The students were taught music rhythm, tone and fundamentals of music, developing and refining voice techniques and sight reading. Much emphasis was placed on the recognition and knowledge of music terms.

The Norseman Chorus replaced the men's ensemble. Because it was an unscheduled group as far as the computer was concerned, it was permitted to wear a name. Boys from all the choruses were eligible for membership in the group which rehearsed before school at 7:30 a.m. on Wednesdays throughout the year. The Christmas and Spring programs were highlights among their performances.

Talents to Many School Activities

Performing under the direction of Loyson Mahoney, the fifty-four members of the senior orchestra supported many school activities with music. The instrumentalists provided the background music for the 1968 Fall Aurora. They also participated in the annual Christmas program.

The All-City Music Festival, held in January, was a highlight for many music students. Members of the orchestra competed with other participating schools in order to win chairs in the All-City Orchestra.

"Carnival" was selected for the Spring Musical held in March. Again the instrumentalists were busy preparing scores for the production.

The orchestra's last performances included the May 23 Spring Concert and Commencement on June 5.

Members of the String Quartet were chosen from the senior orchestra on the basis of their musical ability. The quartet is composed of two violins, a viola and a cello.

The members of the quartet practiced before and after school. They also performed in the Spring concert. Most performances were given for private functions.

Colorful Performances of Viking

The Viking band began their rehearsals two weeks before the official school year began in preparation for their annual appearance at the Nebraska State Fair in September. They could be heard many fall mornings rehearsing for their performances during the football season. Under the direction of Loyson Mahoney, the band played at all home half-time ceremonies. They also aided the Vikettes in their routines.

After the football season members of the band began practicing for the All-City Music Festival which was held in January. Four students received first chairs from competitions held among other schools participating in the program.

The pep and stage bands were chosen from the Viking band members. The pep band played at all pep rallies and at all home basketball games. The pep band was created to boost school spirit and support the cheerleaders.

The members of the stage band were chosen for their musical ability and their enthusiasm. The stage band provided the background music for the Aurora. In the spring the band held a recital. Most of the stage bands performances were private.

The Drum Major for the bands was Dan Wittstruck and the Majorettes were Bonnie Thom and Debbie Sullivan.

ROTC Battalion Provides Various

Throughout the year the ROTC program provided the school with a variety of services. The most outstanding were the color guard and the cadet police of the Courtesy Patrol.

The color guard gave the presentation of the colors at all home football and basketball games and at PTA meetings and Open House, while the cadet police raised the flag at school each morning and assisted at school functions and patrolled the halls.

Battalion formations were held each Friday at 7:30 a.m. The companies were inspected by their cadet officers. These drills were in preparation for the General Inspection held in January and April. The inspections were conducted by officers of the 5th Army headquarters.

An exciting part of the program was the formation of the varsity and junior varsity drill teams. They were commanded by Preston Starnes and Joseph Rusk and performed at school games and in the Aurora.

Both teams competed in the Intracity meet at UNO, which is an annual event held each Spring. They also traveled to Boulder, Colorado, where they performed at the Inter-State meet at the University of Colorado.

The Ordnance Department took care of the maintenance of all weapons. The cadets learned the proper methods of all firearms. A rifle was checked out to each cadet and he was expected to practice at least once a week on the firing range.

Promotions Given

A major event for ROTC and an outstanding night for all those who attended, was the thirty-fourth annual Military Ball.

The Ball was sponsored by the North High School ROTC Battalion and was held at the Livestock Exchange Ballroom on March 7.

A presentation of colors was given by the Color Guard to open the evening's formal ceremonies. Principal Harold Reeves welcomed students and guests to the traditional ball at which battalion promotions are announced.

The presentation of the colonel's insignia was then made to Colonels Preston Starnes and Joseph Rusk. Roses were given to their ladies.

Football Season Is Exciting One for Viking Fans

For the second year in a row the varsity squad was partial to the victory column. The Vikes ended the season with an 8-1 record which earned them a fourth place berth in the Class A state ratings.

The Vikes were plagued with injuries and handicapped by an inexperienced line as they met Tech in the season opener Sept. 13. The Trojans just had too much "go" for the Vikes as Tech held a six-point lead for three quarters and then turned in 18 points in the final period. The final score found the Vikes scoreless in the face of Tech's 24 points.

On Sept. 20 the Norsemen bounced back to down Benson, 13-17. The Bunnies took the lead scoring on a pass in the first quarter, but with 2:43 left before the half Rick Davis romped 14 yards to make the score 7-6. Mark Bruegge-man added his first extra point of the season to tie the score. Late in the fourth quarter on a fourth-and-two situation on the Bunnie seven, Charlie McWhorter tallied on a reverse to give the Vikes the winning margin.

The Vikes added win Number 2 to their victory column on Sept. 27 as they defeated South, 33-7, at Benson field. McWhorter started the scoring on a 46-yard punt return early in the first quarter. A passing combination of Bill Duncan to Aaron Hall produced the Vikings' second score in the second quarter. The Packers got on the scoreboard as Dave Ksiazek hit his favorite receiver, Bob Wolfe, who scored standing up just before the half ended. Arthur Scott, Charlie McWhorter, and Gene Washington rounded out the scoring to insure the Vike victory.

The newly named Raiders from Rummel couldn't stop the Viking scoring machine as North held Rummel scoreless and tallied 36 points Oct. 4. It took the Vikes one quarter to warm up before Aaron Hall and Charlie McWhorter both scored twice. Gene Washington found the end zone once while Mark Brueggemann converted on three extra point attempts and a 20-yard field goal to end the scoring.

The night of Oct. 11 found North pitted against Thomas Jefferson at Burke field. The Yellowjackets tried to spoil a Viking Homecoming victory but were repulsed, 37-0, by an explosive Vike squad. Charlie McWhorter turned in three touchdowns, two on runs of 56 and 25 yards and one a pass play that covered 56 yards. John Adams returned an intercepted pass over 50 yards for the first TD. Gene Washington once again found the end zone as he scored on a 35-yard jaunt. Mark Brueggemann kicked his second field goal of the season as he split the uprights from 25 yards out.

The Norsemen traveled to Bergquist stadium Oct. 18 and collected their third straight shut out by defeating Central, 7-0. The game was played on the worst field conditions the Vikes faced all year. After several days of rain, rushing yardage was hard to come by as the Viking backfield turned in only 102 yards. Fifty-seven yards were

The highlight of the season came Oct. 24 at Burke field when the Vikes toppled top-rated Westside, 7-3. Enough can't be said that would give adequate praise to a stubborn Norseman defense that kept the Warriors out of the end zone. Westside's only score came in the third quarter. lead until Charlie McWhorter returned a fourth quarter Westside punt 80 yards for a touchdown. The Viking victory was assured in the last moments when Arthur Scott intercepted a Mark Carlton pass in Westside's end zone and ran it out to the 20.

Ryan High turned out to be victory Number 6 on Nov. 1 at Bergquist field. Vikings McWhorter and Davis tallied on runs of two, five, and one yards. Levi Brown drifted through the Knight defense 23 yards for his tally. In the fourth quarter, Gene Washington found he could score as he returned a punt 60 yards. Mark Brueggemann converted on five PAT attempts and shattered the Metro field goal record. Brueggemann found the range from 46 yards out to dethrone Hugh Tobin of his 38 yard record. The final score was 38-6.

In below freezing weather the Vikings marked victory number eight in the win column Nov. 8 at Burke field. The Bulldogs from Burke held on to two points received on an early first quarter safety for three periods before the Vikes tallied. McWhorter set up the TD play on a 28-yard carry to the Burke 11. A 10-yard burst by Rick Davis aided the cause as he put the ball one yard from a touchdown. McWhorter went over for the score followed by Brueggemann's kick to make the score 7-2.

The Viking defense did an outstanding job throughout the season allowing only 5.4 points per game, the tightest defense in the state.

Underclassman Talent Varies From

The Junior Varsity football squad earned itself the highest ranking in the American Division of the Metropolitan League. The "undisputed champions" fought hard to escape their sometimes near defeats, as in the Ryan-North game. The third quarter score was 12-0, Ryan was leading and things looked pretty dim. The fourth was a new story as the team scored two touchdowns and then won the game with Jerry Anderson's extra point attempt.

Jerry Anderson, Lyle Moser, Wayne Wilson, and Mike Ludwig were the main defenders on the North High roster. Coached by Robert Gloden and Dan Sorenson, the whole team was dominated by a great spirit.

A 30-yard field goal record was only surpassed by a record set by Mark Brueggemann of North's Varsity of 46 yards. The spirit and fine play of all members of the team shot them toward their Metro title. Even when the Vikes were leading Burke by 23 points, they still fought hard for yardage to make the final score 43-20.

The sophomores had a long hard gridiron season. Their record, the worst sophomore record in twenty years, was 1-5. Their only win came from Rummel during the sophomore Spirit Week. They won by a score of 6-0.

Netmen Try Fall Tennis Schedule

The tennis program donned a new wardrobe as it changed from the spring to the fall sports calendar. The autumn atmosphere was much to the team's liking as an overall improvement was noted. The team managed to compile a 3-3 record in division competition of the Metropolitan League.

After the team's early season lack of consistent play, Coach Tom Rosengren was pleased with the team's improved performance. It was the first time in three years that the tennis team finished at the .500 mark. The first two matches of the year saw the team emerge without a scratch, downing Tech, 4-1, on Sept. 10 and Burke, 3-2, on Sept. 12. Its third win came Sept. 20 over South, 5-0.

Losses were at the hands of Rummel, Westside and Thomas Jefferson. In the state meet, the team had to settle for a tie for last place with no point scored. Outstanding racketmen were juniors Wayne Piper and Tim Malhoit. They ended the year with five wins and no losses. Others who deserve praise are senior co-captains Steve Bayer and Mike Allen, along with senior singles player Steve Lee and doubles partners senior Alan Carlson and junior Dale Orton.

The Vikings placed three runners in in the top ten finishers in the District Cross Country meet at Creighton Prep, but failed to win meet honors. The team did qualify for the state meet.

Harriers Win Metro Championship

With high hopes for a successful season, Coach Robert Luther started his fifth year as Cross Country coach. Building a squad around six returning lettermen, the year started with a bang, but ended on a sour note.

Opening the season on Sept. 14, the team finished fourth in the Rummel Invitational. In successive weeks, the harriers conquered division opponents Thomas Jefferson, Ryan, Central, Tech and Westside. The highlight of the year came as the team captured the Metropolitan championship on Oct. 11. The meet, directed by Athletic Director Marvin Decker and Coach Luther, saw the harriers rout Benson as defending champions and thump the division champ, Rummel. A fourth place showing was the best the boys could come up with as they competed for the state championship to end the season Oct. 26.

Throughout the year the team was paced by the fine running of Senior Jim Hawkins. He set a variety of course records, but his most notable achievement was covering Lincoln's Pioneer Park course in 9:33 to break the state record by four seconds.

In addition to Hawkins, Coach Luther had outstanding runners in Seniors Jim Arnold, John Matthies and Rich Kitchin in producing a balanced squad. Next year's squad will be built around John Steele, Dave Parrish, Dave Beig, John Richardson, Steve Stiles and Steve Mila, all juniors and four of them lettermen.

Varsity Season Best in Years for Courtmen

Boasting a 14-7 record, the best North has ever posted, Coach Bob Murray looks toward the future with a sparkle in his eye. But the beginning of that sparkle was this year's basketball squad. The Vikings contained a 10 game winning streak throughout the heart of the season. They defeated everyone from a top-rated Prep squad to a winless Bellevue quintet.

Winning and losing by the same score, North won its opener against Ryan 71-69 and then fell to South 69-71 the next week. With losses to Boystown and Westside making their record 1-3, the "string" began. First it was Burke, then Central and Tech, all the way to a 54-52 victory over Ralston. Then came A. L. and T. J., the season closers, and both downed the fourth ranked Vikings.

Seniors Jerry Sorensen and Jim Arnold gave valuable assistance to the squad. Sorensen's hot shooting made him the number two Vike scorer and earned him honorable mention for All Metro. Arnold helped command the boards but found himself in foul trouble too often. Being the tallest man in the conference isn't easy but 6'8" junior Wayne Piper found it amusing. Wayne totaled 247 rebounds and had a 14.4 scoring average.

Juniors Ken Patterson and Karl Webb rounded out Viking starters. Patterson's 311 season points made him the team's top scorer. Ken was placed on the All Tourney team for his fine performance in the Holiday Tournament, and received honorable mention on the All Metro team.

Junior Varsity Looks to Future

North's Junior Varsity completed their season with a record of 7-9. They started the season with a win over Ryan, and then South by scores of 56-51 and 51-49. The Boystown team proved too hot for the J.V. as the Cowboys beat them 52-43. The loss didn't phase them as they squeezed by Westside 59-58, and downed Burke 49-34. The Junior Vikes lost a close game to Central by a score of 50-52, and a tough Tech team beat our Vikes 63-43. Benson also got by with a score of 53-52, but North came back to rout a Lincoln Pius team 64-57. A hot Rummel team defeated North by 63-39. Bryan and Prep were the Juniors last wins as they lost their last four games to Bellevue, Ralston, A. L. and T. J.

The team was coached by Bob Witte, who is looking forward to his fourth season next year. Starters for the Juniors' were Tim Malhoit, who was high scorer with 149 points, Dan Warthen, who sunk 143 points, Dave Jones who had 104, Ron Schulze, Othello Browder, Rick Cooley and Scott Farrington.

The Sophomore Vikes ended their season with a 6-4 record. They were tied with Burke for their league's championship. The team was coached by Mike Mertz. This was his second year as the sophomore coach.

The little Vikes dropped their first two games of the season when they were weakened by bouts with the flu. Their first loss was to Benson, followed by one to South. They went on to win their next four games with Tech, Ryan, Westside, and Thomas Jefferson. A slump plagued the North team as it lost to Boystown and Burke, but a quick recovery led to the defeat of the Rummel Raiders.

Elmer Crumbly proved to be the sophomores' high point man as he was often in double figures. He scored 99 points. Randolf Scott was second with 76 points to his credit. Jim Blake tallied 68, and Les Wells was close behind with 66.

Swim Team Lacks Experience

A 4-2 American Division record, third place in the American Division Relays, eighth place in the Metro Conference, and a 16th berth finish in the State Swimming and Diving Meet—these are the accomplishments of the 1968-69 tankers. In his third year as swim coach, Bob Gloden has built a cumulative record of 29-13.

As the season progressed the tankers found that the last event is just as important as the first. Twice the Vikes were downed on last event losses. One loss was to Benson and the other to Hastings. The meaningful last event is the 400 yard freestyle relay. In the first meet of the season North downed Central by a victory in the relay.

With the aid of eight seniors and 12 returning lettermen, Coach Gloden felt the team did what was expected of them. Captains were Rich Klanderud and Dick Brown.

Leading the diving squad were sophomores Randy Klement and Jerry Tyler. Three other divers helped throughout the season: Dan Logan, Dave Costello, and Rick Wright.

Terry Murtaugh, state champion.

The 22nd North High School Invitational initiated the wrestling season and North placed fifth in its own meet. In the first regular dual match the matmen outscored the Rummell Raiders, 41-8. Burke was next to fall, 42-8.

Coach Dan Sorenson's matmen went to Ryan and T. J. and brought home losses from both. Westside and Tech were next to fall to the Vikes' strong matmen. Benson overran the Vikes the following match to win, 26-22. The season ended with dual losses to Abraham Lincoln and Bellevue.

One of the year's brightest spots for the team was the work of Terry Murtaugh, '69, who captured first place in the 165-pound class in the State meet, in which the team finished ninth. Other outstanding wrestlers were Bill Goers, Rich Partridge and Dave Goers.

Agile Vikings Rate Praise in Gymnastics

The North High gymnastics team had its most successful season out of its four years of existence as a sport at this school. The team finished the season with seven wins, one tie, and one loss. Both the loss and the tie were non-conference meets which made the Vikings conference champions. The gymnastic squad at the respective meets finished third in their District and sixth in the Metro standings.

The team, coached by Thomas Sitzman, P.E. Instructor, has been improving more each season at North. Team balance and strength was at an all-time high in the '68-'69 season. Individual standout for the team were seniors Keith Fagan; district qualifier, Jim Duda; two time district champion and juniors Dave Bieg and Nick Caguioa both district qualifiers.

'N' Club-Faculty Is Popular Game

Athletes in the "N" Club were involved in many activities. They prepared a basket of food for a needy family, organized the "N" Club vs. Faculty basketball game, and sponsored a Spring Dance at which the King and Queen of sports were crowned.

Don Hinkle was faculty sponsor of the club. Robert Luther and Robert Gloden shared duties as co-sponsors.

Brad McMinn was elected president, and Rich Klanderud, vice-president. Tom Hejkal served in the dual office of secretary-treasurer, and Terry Murtaugh was sergeant-at-arms.

The Club's roster listed eighty-five boys who qualified for membership. To be a member the boys had to letter in a sport, attend meetings regularly, and pay their dues.

Four Lettermen Aid Golf Coach

With a new coach the golf team looked forward to an exciting season. Taking over for "Dusty" Decker, Tim Johnson headed the golf crew. "Dusty" gave up the spot to become a freshman boys counselor. Mr. Johnson is an instructor in the business education department.

The team looked for experience from four returning lettermen: Willard Bessy, Greg Parsons, Jim Mair, and Clint Duckworth. Other senior members of the team who provided experience and support were Jerry Beavens and Tom Hejkal.

The Fremont Invitational was scheduled as high spot of the season. The golfers attending missed a day of school since the Invitational was held on May 12.

Coach Johnson also looked forward to the Metro League May 2. Juniors Jack Culek and Mike Cliffton gave added strength to the squad.

Track Team Sets Season Goal of

Starting his fifth year as varsity track coach, Robert Luther had a funny feeling about the '69 season. He had visions of having one of the toughest teams in the Metropolitan Conference and in the state.

In reality his visions were based upon a variety of circumstances. First, he had a fine assistant coaching staff in Leonard Bond and Tom Rosengren. Secondly, he had individuals such as Karl Webb, Jim Arnold, John Matthies, George Davis, Gene Washington and Jim Hawkins to provide the foundation for a high finish in every meet entered.

Arnold, Davis, Matthies and Hawkins placed one goal above all else as they engaged in competition—that was to bring home the state mile relay title at any expense. A goal of a sub 3:20 relay was envisioned, and Luther's visions came true in the opening meet of the year, the Greater Omaha Indoor Track Meet, held March 28-29. The team romped over the 35 present Class A and B schools while rolling up a total of 38 points. The relay titles were accumulated and two records posted. Washington captured a first in winning the 60 yard dash.

Other early season victories came at the Council Bluffs Relays and over Division opponents Tech High, Thomas Jefferson, Westside, Ryan, Burke, and Rummel. Personnel responsible for the victories included Leon Golden, John Steele, Mike Hawkins, Steve Stiles, Art Scott, Dave Beig and Gary Miller.

Cold weather and rainy days kept the varsity baseball team in the gym practicing with tennis balls the opening weeks of training. As the weather warmed up the team moved outside to start the '69 season. A record of 3-1 would hopefully set the pace for the remainder of the season after victories over Rummel 12-2, Boystown 3-2, and Westside 6-1. Their first loss was against Prep 2-0.

Lack of experience was one problem the Vikes never faced with six returning lettermen: Gary Birge, Jim Blacketer, Gary Luedtke, Wayne Piper, Ralph Knight and Keith Schorle. The team's strongest point was pitching controlled by Gary Birge, Wayne Piper, Dan Warthen, Rich Penney, and Jim Blacketer.

The sixteen-man squad coached by Don Hinkle faced its greatest competition against the Creighton Bluejays and the Benson Bunnies.

A rough eight-game schedule was played by the Junior Varsity ball club with surrounding high schools in the Metropolitan Conference. The club was under the direction of Coach Robert Witte.

Starters for the year were: Tim Malhoit, first base; Joe Guerrero, second base; Mike Phalen, short stop; Steve Rundall, third base; Francis Heim, left field; Roger Heider, center field; Steve Sandene, right field; and Ron Morrison, catcher. The Junior Vikes' power hitter was Ron Morrison, while Steve Rundall was the outstanding fielder.

The twenty-four man squad was made up of 4 freshmen, 13 sophomores, and 7 juniors. The prime goal of J.V. baseball is to prepare players for varsity competition.

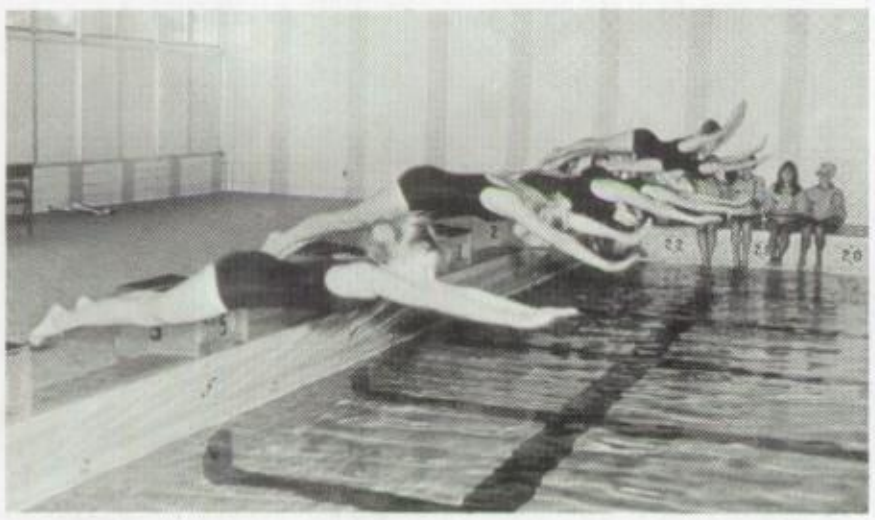
Girl Swimmers Enjoy Playday at Burke Pool

This was the first year that North High had an organized girls swim team. The young North mermaids were led throughout the year by junior Judy Fruhbauer, and senior Barb Eveland. Judy swam the 50-yard breast stroke and finished second, while Barb competed in the 50 yard free style finishing third in the Swim Playday at Burke high school. North also had two other second place finishers in its medley relay team and its free style medley relay team, both composed of juniors and seniors. The sophomores held their own, placing high in four of five events. Its free style relay team comprised of Lin Garber, Marilyn Anderson, Suzie Miles, and Becky Romey splashed its way to first place. Second place honors went to Chris Mohrlock in the free style and Carol Dean in the backstroke.



Good form is essential to a good start as the girls are reminded at each practice by their coach, Miss Judy Marsh. The biggest splash isn't the best.

Gymnastics Is Popular Addition to Girls' Sports

A new dimension was added to girls sports in the form of a gymnastic team under the leadership of Miss Judy Marsh. Much enthusiasm was created not only among the participants but also among the spectators. The girls worked out on the balance beam, trampoline and uneven parallel bars. They also performed free exercises, vaulting, and tumbling.

A gymnastic playday was held at Burke in November. The four first place winners, Vicky McCoy, tumbling; Laurie Ivers, balance beam; Cindy Roe, trampoline; and Chris Mohrlock, free exercise, also gave an exhibition at the Crossroads during National Education Week.

Enthusiastic Cheerleaders

Viking spirit was kept at a peak this year with three squads of cheerleaders. The varsity squad consisted of eight senior girls captained by Caryl Christian and co-captained by Judi Engdahl. The nine Junior Varsity girls were captained by Gay Oberg, while Bev Davey was in charge of the eleven sophomores.

The varsity squad had more than its share of tragedies. Among them were no uniforms for the first game and more injuries than the football team.

The girls were chosen on the basis of their performance, the execution of the cheer, and the ability to promote group spirit. They were judged by the Cheerleaders Committee, a panel of seven teachers set up to judge the girls on an impartial basis. The girls attended two clinics this year, one sponsored by Gustavus Adolphus College in St. Peter, Minnesota, and the other by Nebraska Wesleyan University in Lincoln.

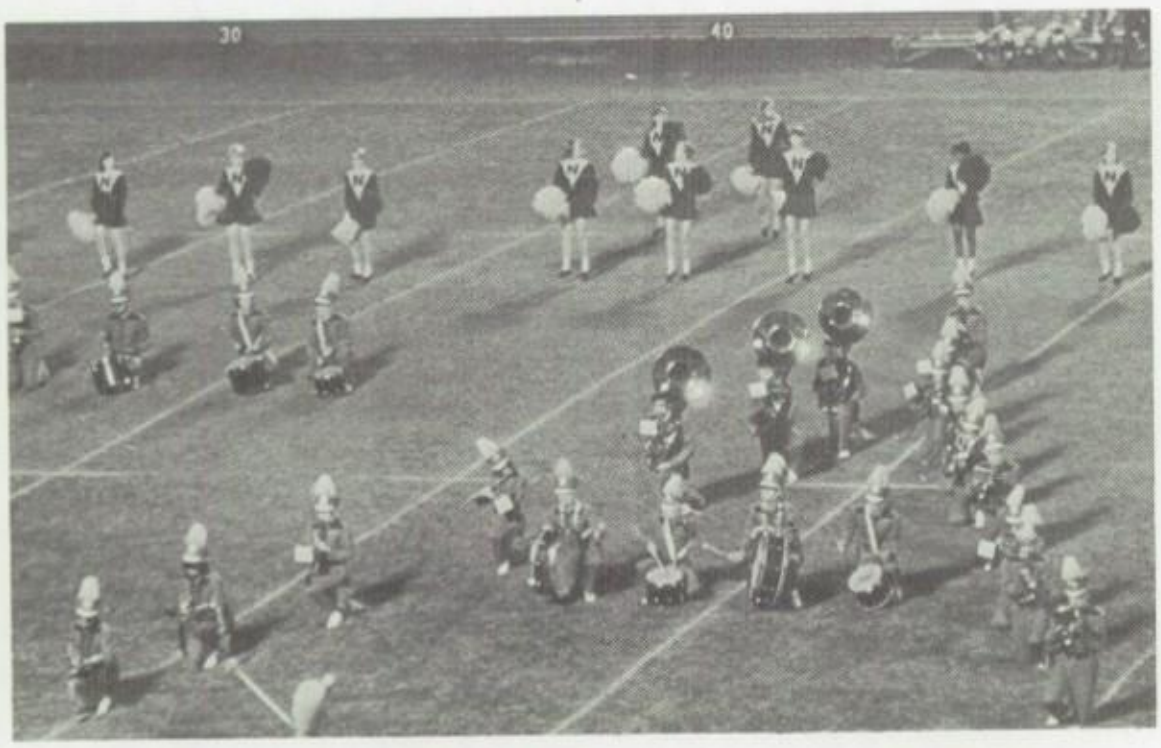
Vikettes Give Colorful Show

Fall mornings the Vikettes could be seen straggling onto the football field for a quick run-through of their routines with the band. The twenty-two girls were captained by seniors Du Rell Dice and Kathy Stiles. They performed for all home football and basketball games, parades, Open House and the Aurora.

This was the first year that the Vikettes were used throughout the halftime shows at football games. Tryouts were held in the spring for those girls qualifying by earning Pep Club points. They were selected by a panel of teachers and six graduating Vikettes, who judged them on their grace, poise, and knowledge of routines and marching. The girls were under the sponsorship of Miss Judy Marsh and Loyson Mahoney.



"Hey, Look Me Over," as the Vikettes are doing here, proved to be the most crowd-pleasing of their routines.

'Mod' Pep Club Swings Into Year With New Look

Carolyn Cody, Sharon Lindgren and Julie Brueggemann display the new diagonal Pep Club sweaters.

The Pep Club went "mod" this year. The girls abandoned the solid blue sweaters to wear with blue skirts and adopted new ones with bold diagonals of blue and gold.

The enthusiasm of Pep Club gave increasing support to swimming, gymnastics, wrestling, tennis, cross country, track, and baseball throughout the entire year.

Fund raising activities included the selling of pom pons, school bumper stickers, and basketball booster ribbons.

The club inaugurated a Spirit Week competition to be held annually. The junior class was declared winner by a narrow margin over the seniors. The class was presented a plaque on which the winning class will be engraved each year.

Officers directing Pep Club projects were: president, Carolyn Cody; vice president, Linda Freeman; secretary-treasurer, Polly Nicklin; and poster chairman, Jo Ann Wilson.

Work Toward School Improvements

North has two service organizations, the Student Council and the Student Commission. Their members are students who willingly give up an extra study hall to lend a helping hand. Council members are elected, while Commission helpers are volunteers.

Teacher Appreciation Day, Homecoming, Student Commission Party, decoration of the Christmas tree and Thanksgiving baskets were just a few of the Student Council's projects during the year.

The Council sent Jim O'Dell and Dale Orton to Norfolk as the official delegates from North to the State Council Convention. Jim was a candidate for president of the State Council. Council members doubled their contribution to the 1968 United Community Services.

Carl Blake, Council president, was also vice moderator of the Intra-City Council. Other officers were Tom Hejkal, vice president; Letha Birkholtz, secretary; Alan Carlson, treasurer; and Karen Baker, historian. Serving as faculty sponsors were Mrs. Mary Brown, Leslie George, Joe Schik and Terry Lewis.

Student Commission was composed of helpers in the lunchroom, library, halls, nurse's office, and the counselling and main offices.

The lunch aides kept the cafeteria clean and orderly. Library helpers assisted in checking in and out books, magazines and reference material. They also processed and shelved new library books.

The office boys were assigned to the main office, from where they delivered office calls, attendance sheets, and packages to teachers.

Office helpers in the main office and the counselling offices delivered messages, typed, filed, and performed a variety of clerical tasks. In the main office they assisted with absentees and phone calls.

Halls were watched by students assigned specific duties during the lunch hour. The nurse's helpers performed first aid duties, and filled out accident reports. Mrs. Dorothy Campbell and Leo Taylor supervised the Student Commission.

Library Club Broadens Learning

The Library club was sponsored by Mrs. Marian Miles and Mrs. Florence Anderson. The club's officers were Nancy Warren, president; Faith Hampton, vice-president; Gloria Mason, secretary; Mary Greco, treasurer; and William Bohannon, historian.

The club organized four important projects during the year. The first project was connected with what the members termed a "civic responsibility." They sent Christmas cards to the soldiers in Vietnam. Their school project involved decorating the two libraries for Christmas.

Later in the year the members decided upon some educational projects. They broadened their learning by touring Joslyn Art Museum, Boys Town and a local television station. The club also sponsored a progressive dinner for its members in the spring.

Junior Classical League members began their activities for the year with the club's traditional initiation in November. They celebrated the holidays with a Christmas Party at the Miller Park Presbyterian Church. The group's annual Roman-style banquet was held April 25.

Guest speaker for the JCL March meeting was Mrs. Ellen Gast who gave a slide presentation and discussion of the beauty of Ancient Greece. Bellevue High School was host to the state JCL convention in the spring which North delegates attended.

The club's annual mum sale for Homecoming and the sale of subscriptions to the Latin paper, Aquila Aquilonis, raised funds to finance the club's service projects. Margaret Hawes and Marilyn Welch edited the paper. As a Christmas greeting to former Latin students JCL sent a news letter containing reports of the whereabouts and activities of many alumni.

The club was sponsored by Miss Evadena Peterson and Alfred DiMauro. Officers were Sandra Layman, president; Phil Giles, vice president; Kandy Ray, secretary; and Clint Whitwer, treasurer.

El Polo del Norte, the Spanish club, was composed of all third and fourth year Spanish students. The group was sponsored by Mrs. Louise Sutton and Mrs. Dorothy Campbell.

The pinata party at Christmas time featured a black crepe paper mouse pinata made by Julie Sandene and Kate Therien. The girls added pink ears to their mouse and then filled it with candy canes, lollipops, peanuts and bubble gum. The "happening" at the party was the accidental breaking of the pinata when the string with which Larry Haman was holding it broke. Tennis and baseball stole the scene at the club's spring picnic.

The club published a bi-monthly paper, El Polo del Norte, which featured Spanish students in school activities. All Spanish students received the paper which was edited by Sherry Taylor and Peggy Towey. Julie Sandene drew the cover designs.

Nominees from the third and fourth year classes provided the slate from which the officers were elected. The successful candidates were: John Marty, president; Cathy Stahl, vice president; and Tara Agosta, secretary-treasurer.

Clubs Offer Variety in Programs

The busiest room in North High School for a month before Christmas was Room 124. The French Club established headquarters there for collecting and wrapping gifts to be taken to the Beatrice State Home. Cars loaded with hundreds of gifts donated by students and faculty members, as well as forty dozen home-made cookies, traveled over ice-covered highways December 21 to take this contribution to Christmas at the Home.

For one of the club's most interesting meetings, Noel Cruz, American Field Service exchange student, presented a program on his homeland in the Philippine Islands. Club members also enjoyed a spring banquet, a Christmas party and an initiation party.

Officers directing the club's activities were Sue Kelley, president; Lemuel Binkey, vice president; Debbie Kaplan, secretary; and Charles Lewis, treasurer. Sponsors were Miss Cheryl Witham and Mrs. Virginia Nedley.

The German Club received its official charter as a school organization in September, 1968. German was introduced into the curriculum this year for the first time since 1940. Membership in the club was open to anyone who had an interest in the language.

The club was sponsored by Miss Kristi Planck. Miss Planck has traveled to Germany many times, her most recent visit being during the summer of 1968.

President Kris Hanson presided over the meetings with the help of Marilyn Anderson, vice-president. Treasurer was Carl Blake, and Debra Brown was secretary.

Even with the club still in its organizational stages, it participated in the Student Council all-school Thanksgiving project and the French club's Christmas toy drive for the Beatrice State Home.

Students genuinely interested in art in all its various forms took an active part in Artisans club sponsored by Mrs. Eileen Shearer.

This year something new was added. Dues were collected for individual subscriptions to Artist Junior Magazine from which members learned new techniques and designs.

Two full meetings featured demonstration films on water color and pastel techniques. First semester was climaxed by a Christmas party.

During the second semester, the club went to an art exhibit at Joslyn Art Museum. They also had the privilege of hearing two guest speakers at their regular meetings.

The president, Faith Hampton, made sure everything went smoothly. Vice President Connie Nelle and Secretary-treasurer Delores Drees assisted her.

Glaciers Pursue Literary Interests

Glaciers is an honorary English club for girls. It is sponsored by Mrs. Josephine Mattox and Mrs. Irene Smith. The club seeks to acquaint its members with all types of literature.

Membership is made up of twenty-five junior and senior girls. Seniors were hostesses at the meetings for the first semester. Their programs included reciting lines from plays and telling Christmas stories. The senior officers were Carolyn Cody, president; Jill Griesing, vice president; Jacque James, secretary; Kathy Anderson, treasurer; Kathy Polk and Letha Birkholtz, sergeants-at-arms.

Juniors took over the programs for the second semester. They presented information on famous musicals. Their officers included Peggy Seibel, president; Sandra Hille, vice president; Debbie Miller, secretary; Anita Clark, treasurer; and Liz Abels and Carol Greim, sergeants-at-arms.

Social highlights of the year for Glaciers were the installation tea for junior members and the farewell tea for the seniors.

AFS Members Back Exchanges

The American Field Service Club is a student organization whose main function is to raise funds to bring foreign exchange students to North. The club now in its second year, is sponsored by Vernon Wood and Miss Kristi Planck.

Members started out the year by selling Halloween insurance for one dollar. This way parents were sure that if a yard or home was vandalized during the night it would be cleaned by members of the club. Two "shorts days" were held in the spring to add further funds to the treasury. Tickets were sold to students for a fee of twenty-five cents, in exchange for wearing shorts to school.

Officers were Lisa Swenson, president; Jean Heider, vice-president; Linda Vescio, secretary; and Sandra Carlson, treasurer. Noel Cruz, this year's foreign exchange student, served as honorary president.

Future Nurses of America was organized to provide a variety of information for students interested in pursuing the field of nursing as their profession. It was sponsored by Mrs. Gladys Lantz, the school nurse.

During the year the club toured the Methodist and Clarkson Hospitals in order to give the members a chance to observe hospital routine and facilities.

For service projects the club presented skits at children's homes and sang Christmas carols at Orchard Hill nursing home.

Members heard guest speakers on physiotherapy and Navy nursing. Films on drugs, drug abuses, and nurse's training were shown at regular meetings. The club's president was Sandra Brown. Other officers were Sandra Carlson, vice-president; Valerie Weber, secretary-treasurer; and Joan Alback and Debbie Anderson, sergeants-at-arms.

Special Talents Direct Students in Club Choice

Future Teachers of America is designed to acquaint interested students with the teaching profession. Much of the students' knowledge is acquired through guest speakers and films. At one meeting, Mrs. Marty Pierson, a special education teacher at Tech High, spoke on "Teaching the Slow Learner." She also directed a discussion on general classroom techniques.

Many of the FTA members are already gaining experience in the teaching field as volunteers. Some are Sunday School teachers, teacher aides, and others give swimming lessons. In December, the club sponsored its annual Christmas Tea for teachers. This allowed all the members to participate in planning a social event at which they were introduced to the teachers outside of their classrooms.

Faculty sponsors of FTA were Albert Black and Mrs. Bernice Gdowski. Officers were Vicki Jensen, president; Peggy Seibel, vice president; Marilyn Slavin, secretary; Gail Davis, historian; and Sandy Layman, treasurer.

Sigma Phi Omega, the math club, was under the sponsorship of David Petersen and Paul Lehn. The club tried to stimulate interest in mathematics among its members through special programs and meetings.

Business of the 1968-69 school year included election of new officers. Steve Dunbar was elected president; David Swanger, vice-president; Judy Stuckwisch, secretary; and Randy Kroh, treasurer.

Early in the year, Sigma Phi Omega held its annual sale of math tables and geometers. The success of the sale helped finance the club members' participation in various area math tournaments. A Thanksgiving project and Christmas party were functions to circle on the club calendar. Throughout the year Sigma Phi Omega contacted various colleges and universities to keep informed on mathematics study programs on American campuses.

DECA Explores Business World

DECA, an affiliate of the Distributive Education Clubs of America, deals mainly with helping students to understand the business world. It attempts to give its members a practical knowledge of marketing and sales.

DECA participates in the State Delegate Assembly, Fall Conference and State Leadership Convention along with other DECA clubs in the state. They also have an annual employer-employee banquet.

Most of the club's money was earned through the sale of candles at Christmas. It was used to pay operating expenses of the club and to pay for the registration fees of members attending the state and national events.

Red Cross Gives Its Helping Hand

The high school Red Cross chapters are an integral part of the International Red Cross organization. They help to develop an interest and an active participation in serving society.

Each chapter attends County Council meetings once a month to discuss projects of clubs. Under the direction of Miss Mary Jane Hurley, North High's Red Cross promoted many service projects this past year. During the Thanksgiving season, the club donated canned goods to a Thanksgiving basket and money from the treasury for a turkey to give to a needy family.

Seniors Edit School's Publications

The staffs of the student publications are made up of seniors who have completed one year of journalism study. Their job is editing the North Star and the Norseman.

Mrs. Ellen Gast supervises the publications. She advises students, sees that all is run smoothly and that all deadlines are met on time.

Each year journalism students have a chance to attend the Nebraska High School Press Association conference held in Lincoln on the University of Nebraska campus. They also compete for Silver Key Awards and other writing prizes during the year.

This marks the forty-fifth consecutive year for publication of the North Star and the twenty-fourth year for the Norseman, originally called the Polar Log.

Students in the upper one-third of their class scholastically are eligible for membership in Quill and Scroll, international honorary society for high school journalists.

With Assistance of Camera Club

Membership in the Camera club was open to any student who had an interest in photography. Journalism students were encouraged to become members because of the valuable instruction they could put to use on future publications. Members learned the fundamentals of developing film and printing good pictures. They also experimented with the process of enlarging pictures.

Under the leadership of Mr. Keith Eck, the club sponsored various projects. A candy cane drive was held at Christmas. All the profits went toward new equipment and chemicals for the club's use.

Each month the club held a photo contest. Selections were made from negatives and prints submitted by various members. The winning photos were displayed in the main hall.

George Davis was elected president of the Camera club. Other officers included John Adams, vice-president; Paula Perkins, secretary; and Linda Stevenson, treasurer.

Pat Patach . . . Y-Teen of the Year.

Y-Teens welcomed new members at their traditional tea in September following their membership campaign. They also entertained students and faculty at a Christmas installation tea.

Other programs included their annual fashion show, a hair styling and make-up demonstration and a boy-girl panel. Members heard an interview with a student from Nigeria and watched a judo demonstration by Mike Merriweather.

In cooperation with Hi-Y members, the Y-Teens continued the annual practice of sponsoring Thanksgiving and Lenten services at Immanuel Chapel. They also participated in the "Trick or Treat" drive for UNICEF at Halloween.

The sale of bookcovers and briefolios provided most of the money needed to sponsor their activities. A portion of this money was contributed to the World Fellowship Fund and the local United Appeal.

President for the year was Pat Patach. Pat was named "Y-Teen of the Year" for the third time. The title is given to the Y-Teen earning the most points for participating in Y-Teen activities and sales promotions.

Other officers were Terri Moore, vice-president; Carolyn Cody, secretary; and Sue Kletke, treasurer. The club was sponsored by Miss Marian Nelson, Mrs. Virginia Nedley and Miss Kathleen Garrigan.

Committee Heads Organize Activities

Each member of Y-Teens served on a committee of her choice. All programs and activities throughout the year were organized and completed by committees. Committees and their chairmen were: the Inspiration committee headed by Nancy Struble; Refreshment committee, by Gail Feilen; Finance committee, Karen Lebhan; and World Fellowship committee, Sally Heggerness.

Other committees were: Service committee, by Kathy Polk; Social committee, Judi Engdahl; Program committee, Julie Waltermeyer; and Publicity committee, Terri Moore.

YMCA-Affiliated Clubs Are Busy

There were nine Hi-Y's and Tri-Hi-Y's made up of North High students which encouraged Christian leadership in school and community activities. Representative of the nine clubs associated with the YMCA was the Junior Coed Hi-Y, pictured on this page. Each club was required to have a sponsor who had to attend all meetings. Sponsors were approved by the YMCA and were either teachers, mothers or other interested adults. All meetings were held at the Miller Park Branch YMCA.

The clubs raised money during the year to be used for varied service projects and for other club expenses. They earned funds by sponsoring sock-hops, bake sales, car washes, and numerous other projects.

One of the highlights for members this year was the Nebraska Statewide Youth in Government Convention. It was run exactly like a regular legislative session of the Nebraska Unicameral. Each club sent members to represent them. In an election to choose a Governor, Senior Dick Brown was elected to fill the position for one year.

Debaters Earn National Honors

National Forensic League is the national honorary society for high school debators. It was formed to encourage young debators to use their skill and training. The League is sponsored by Debate Coach Vernon Wood and is open to all debators who qualify for membership by earning 25 points.

National rules govern the point system used by the North chapter. Points are earned by participating in debates or giving speeches before groups of 25 or more persons. After a debator qualifies for membership he may work for Degrees of Honor, Excellence and Distinction by acquiring an additional 75, 150 or 250 points.

Many of the League members participated in debate tournaments at schools within the city, as well as outstate. Some travelled to Kansas City and Sioux City. A unique experience was participation in the United Nations Mock Assembly held at Duchesne Academy. Various U.N. member nations were represented by Omaha area high school students.

Stage Workers Design Scenery

The stage crew, Nu Sigma Chi, has been very active behind the scenes of North's various stage productions. The stage craft classes construct props, paint scenery, operate speaker systems under the direction of Mr. Larry Rankin.

Aside from their work on the stage, Nu Sigma Chi has other activities throughout the year. The club has taken field trips to the Omaha Playhouse and other high schools to observe their use of stage craft techniques. This year they are featuring the sale of Nu Sigma Chi jackets and pins. The annual picnic was held in the spring to finish the year.

The club meets every second Tuesday of the month. The officers this year were: John Thomsen, president; Gayle Feilen, vice-president; Dorothy Perkins, secretary; Steve Connelly, treasurer; and Gary Grant, sergeant-at-arms.

Greasepaint Lures Many to Acting

National Thespian Society is an honor society for high school students interested in the dramatic arts. This involves all the phases of the theatre, from constructing sets and applying makeup to learning lines and giving performances. Each school troupe seeks to help its members in all of these areas.

Membership in this national honorary organization is achieved through a point system. Points are awarded for such things as building sets, working on make-up or costume committees, performing, and by watching special performances of plays, shows, or musicals. Once a student earns enough points to qualify for membership he is formally intiated in the club. The Aurora, all-school plays, and other stage productions are sources of points for drama and speech students.

Dwayne Ibsen and Larry Rankin were the faculty sponsors of the Thespians. Mr. Ibsen teaches both speech and drama, and Mr. Rankin teaches English, speech and stage craft.
